

LABOR STIRRED UP.

Judge Rick's Decision Denounced as an Outrage.

It Places the Men at the Mercy of Their Employers.

The Opinions of Well-Known Leaders and Lawyers.

Nothing has occurred within recent years which has so greatly aroused the indignation of labor organizations throughout the country as the remarkable decision of Judge Rick, of the United States District Court, in Toledo, O., by which the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, and other officers of that organization and the firemen's Brotherhood were enjoined, under penalty of arrest and punishment for contempt, from ordering employees of other roads to boycott the freight and cars of the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan Railroad, which is a support to the railroad.

In addition to this Judge Rick has directed Chief Arthur to withdraw his order, recently issued, requiring Brotherhood engineers to release to handle cars of non-union or boycotted roads, and has laid five engineers and their firemen under $200 bonds because they quit work in compliance with this order.

The more the matter is discussed the greater the indignation grows and the more clearly is the injustice of the action of the court realized by those whose interests are most affected by the decision, for Judge Rick has taken the matter into his hands as his colleague, Judge Hicks.

The situation as far as the Locomotive Engineers and Firemen's Brotherhoods is concerned is regarded as very serious, while the case as laid down is nothing short of revolutionary.

The situation is simply this, he says: "The court has granted to the road a temporary injunction restraining me or any of the union men from interfering with the road, and we will certainly have to obey the order until the matter is decided finally one way or the other."

General Master Workman Powderly says that it is an astounding thing that a federal judge should himself in a matter as important as this take the side of the labor organizations.

Mr. Powderly thinks that the order of the court is a violation of the federal constitution, and that the federal authorities, which will be called in to enforce the order, will be in violation of the federal constitution.

In the opinion of Michael Morfitt, President of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Judge Rick's decision is a violation of the federal constitution, and that the federal authorities, which will be called in to enforce the order, will be in violation of the federal constitution.

Mr. Morfitt says that the order of the court is a violation of the federal constitution, and that the federal authorities, which will be called in to enforce the order, will be in violation of the federal constitution.

POLICEMEN ON THE RACK.

Many Charges Against Them for Failing to Close Policy Shops.

Supt. Campbell Determined to Follow the Example of Hyman.

Charges by wholesale were made before Police Commissioner Hyman, of Brooklyn, today, against ward detectives and patrolmen for failing to arrest policy dealers in that city. It is rumored that Supt. Campbell has been stirred by the private citizens and that he has declared war against the shops.

Policy deniers, it is well known, run almost openly in Brooklyn, while the efforts of the police to close them are few. Several days ago, a man who had been indicted in one of the cases secured warrants for the arrest of the proprietors of half a dozen of the resorts.

The warrants were executed by Detective-Sergeant Roche, of the Central Office Squad, and the prisoners are now all under bail pending a hearing.

The captains in whose precincts the raids were made did not satisfy the Superintendent, that their detectives had performed their duty, and he directed them to prefer charges against the delinquent men.

Capt. Kizer of the Cedar street station accordingly preferred charges against Detective-Sergeant Roche, and Patrolman Miller for failing to discover the alleged policy dens kept by Theodore Hutter, of 104 Hubbard avenue; William Smith, 278 Wyckoff avenue; and James J. Kinnings, 147 West 12th street.

Whitney, James J. Kinnings, Charles J. Kellenbuck and Charles Kerner also are accused of neglect of duty for failing to raid the places, which are located on their precincts.

Annals of the Stage street station, made charges against Detective George Campbell and Joseph Lyons and Patrolman Jacob Smith, for failing to arrest the proprietors of the policy shop at 32 Mercer street.

Charges were also made against Detective Thomas Holland and John J. Lohan and Patrolman John J. Lohan for neglecting to arrest a policy dealer, at 154 Greenwich street.

Charges were also made against Detective John Bradley and Patrolman Henry Hittington and Christopher J. Gross, for neglecting to arrest a policy dealer, at 154 Greenwich street.

In this matter Supt. Campbell is evidently taking a hard line. By the way, of New York, in making a bold stand against all sorts of gamblers.

On Saturday night, Detective Hutter, of the Vernon avenue station, entered the residence of John Hutter, at 247 1/2 street, and arrested the proprietor and a man named William J. Hutter, of 247 1/2 street, who was in the place.

The accused policemen will come up for trial a week from to-morrow.

TOO MUCH MOTHER-IN-LAW.

That is George Pichard's Explanation of His Wife's Assault.

If George Pichard, a carrier attached to the New York Post-Office, and who lives at 234 Fort-seventh street, Brooklyn, had not been so much of a mother-in-law, his wife would not have been so much of a mother-in-law.

On Saturday night, Pichard's wife met him on Fort-seventh street. She threw about her a good deal of water, and thrashed him with a horse-whip.

Mr. Pichard refused to state the reason for this assault, but he said that his wife was in a bad temper.

Pichard says the whole thing is a case of too much mother-in-law.

AGED WOMAN A PRISONER.

Boarding-House Mistress Said Mrs. Driggs Was Insane.

Miss Ada E. Day, who now resides in Chicago, appeared in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, today, to complain of a woman named Mrs. Driggs, a boarding-house keeper, of 125 Clinton street.

Mrs. S. T. Driggs, aged eighty-four, an aunt of Miss Day, has been boarding at the house of Mrs. Driggs, and has been in the house for some time.

Special Officer Tim was sent to the house to take Mrs. Driggs to the hospital, and she was taken there.

TWO EMULATORS OF GARDNER.

Thomas McMahon Held for Alleged Offering of "Protection."

One Woman Refused to Pay and Caused His Arrest.

Detective Charles L. Gardner, Parkhurst's aid, seems to have many imitators in and around the Mercer street police station.

In the Jefferson Market Court this morning, Judge Voorhis held Thomas McMahon for trial on a charge of demanding money from fallen women for alleged police protection.

Less than a month ago Emel Mauerhofer, a boy of fifteen, was captured in the very act of taking money from fallen women for alleged police protection.

Last night another was captured. His name was McMahon, and he was arrested at 104 Hubbard avenue.

McMahon met a woman named Clara Kelly, of West Twenty-fifth street, last night at 10 o'clock and demanded $100 from her. She refused to pay the money and he laid hands on her.

The police have found another woman from whom McMahon collected $2.

SPOILED THE RECEPTION.

Marke Jacobs Warned That His Wife Was After Him.

It is Marke Jacobs' turn to laugh today. If he had not been warned last night of an attempt to serve legal papers upon him in a divorce suit brought by Mrs. Gussie Jacobs, of 153 East One Hundred and Fourteenth street, he would have been very unpleasant for him.

Lawyer Robert Greenhalgh had planned to hold a reception in honor of his client, Marke Jacobs, at 153 East One Hundred and Fourteenth street, where Marke was to hold a reception in honor of his client, Marke Jacobs, at 153 East One Hundred and Fourteenth street.
